DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. Receipt is acknowledged of the After Final Amendment filed April 12, 2004. The applicant has canceled claims 2, 10, and 20 and has amended claims 1, 9, and 17.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 1, 3-9, and 11-19 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the cited prior arts of the record, Sher (USPN 6,085,976) and Colgate, Jr. (USPN 5,786,587), taken alone or in combination of other references do not teach, disclose, or fairly suggest the claimed information processing method and system comprising, inter alia, the steps of collecting statistical data of the location of a printer of a plurality of printers in a printing system used for printing data. Sher reference is directed to a passenger card that includes smart cards that have a shape similar to plastic cards with at least one silicon chip or an IC embedded into the card package. The data stored in the smart card functions as an electronic ticket for a particular itinerary, a proof of rights for a specific transportation carrier, electronic money for a transaction, or a security document for protecting the contents of the card and identifying its rightful holder. However, the reference taken singly, or in combination, does not fairly suggest the further claimed steps of receiving the data card by a user by the printing of the data at a first location using a first printer of the plurality of printers in a business system for facilitating the billing for printer consumables for use of the printer by the user of the printer. The present invention provides a user with a low cost and reliable device providing secure access to print data.

Accordingly, one of ordinary skill in the art would not have been motivated to modify teachings of prior art to meet the claimed limitations as set forth in the present claimed invention.

Claims 3-5, 11 and 12 directly depend on the allowable independent claims 1 or 9 and thus allowed for the foregoing reasons.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
